Castries, St. Lucia Port Shopping Map

The twin peaks of the Pitons greet visitors to this volcanic paradise, where luxury hotels nestle into forested slopes. France, England, West Africa have contributed to a refined Caribbean cuisine, and high-quality chocolate is a cash crop. Fort Charlotte overlooks Castries, the capital city that the French began to build in the 17th century and the British completed in 1796.

Did you know?

St Lucia boasts the highest number of Nobel laureates per capita of any nation on Earth. There are two: Derek Walcott (for literature) and William Arthur Lewis (for economics).
